

Booksie's Holiday Reading Camp

is a joyful celebration of books, storytelling and creativity. The seven-week day camp has been designed for children who love books or are learning to love them. Readers learn to read, write, speak, share their thoughts and stretch their imaginations. Our ultimate goal is to develop reading and writing skills, build confidence and inspire creativity!

WHAT HAPPENS AT CAMP?

READING

Readers are assessed on their first day and grouped based on their reading levels. Beginning readers are taught to read with Jolly Phonics and fluent readers focus on comprehension, spelling and writing.

WRITING

Young readers will improve their penmanship with handwriting practice and older readers will have creative writing sessions. They will learn the elements of a story and how to develop characters.

ART & CRAFT

From fixing jigsaw puzzles to making telephones and creating wells with recycled bottles and foil, readers have fun working with their hands and stretching their imaginations.

PUBLIC SPEAKING

Public speaking gives our readers the chance to become more confident as they learn to think critically and share their thoughts and ideas.

DANCE

Readers get to take a break from reading and express themselves with their bodies. They enjoy dance because they get to relax and let go!

THEATRE

We bring the stories we read to life through theatre. It is another fantastic way to build readers' confidence and communication skills.
